Breastfeeding Friendly Scotland

Across Scotland infant feeding is protected by the Breastfeeding etc (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Equality Act 2010. These acts allow infant feeding in all public spaces that a child is entitled to be. You cannot be asked to stop feeding, move or leave the premises.

Breastfeeding
Friendly
Scotland

Look out for this sticker when you are out. This means that the premises have signed up to the new national Breastfeeding Friendly Scheme and fully support your choice of feeding. If you want to know more visit: nhsgrampian.org/bfws.

You can also encourage businesses to sign up by asking them to register at: nhsg.bffscotland@nhs.net

Breastfeeding
Your support in Grampian

We know it can take a bit of time for both mum and baby to learn how to breastfeed.

We are here to support you.

Midwife and Health Visitor

Your community midwife and health visitor will provide you with infant feeding support and information suited to your needs.

When in hospital, all midwifery and health care support workers will offer support with breastfeeding, including a feeding assessment before you go home.

Specialist Support

If you require additional help and support your community midwife or health visitor will assess your lactation and breastfeeding. They will plan care with/or refer you to see your local infant feeding specialists.

Neonatal Unit Aberdeen

If your baby is in the Neonatal Unit, the nurses caring for your baby will be able to assess your lactation and breastfeeding and plan your care with, or refer you to, the Neonatal Infant Feeding Advisors for additional support.

We have breast pumps on the unit for expressing at the incubator/cot side and also breast pump hire if needed for home use while your baby is an in-patient. We also have a dedicated Expressing Room.

Breastpump Hire

For Aberdeen City and Aberdeenshire, pump hire may be arranged following a breastfeeding assessment with your community midwife/health visitor.

Breastfeeding Peer Support Service

Who is it for?

- Pregnant women who are thinking about breastfeeding and want to know more.
- Breastfeeding mums who are establishing breastfeeding.
- Breastfeeding mums who would like support and information to meet their personal breastfeeding goals.
- Family and friends looking to support their friend/relative with breastfeeding.

How does it work?

- All Breastfeeding women will be made aware of the Peer Support Service.
- You can meet or talk to a peer supporter before or after your baby arrives.
- If you would like to speak to a peer supporter or find out more information, ask your community midwife or health visitor at any time or e-mail:

nhsg.breastfeedingsupport@nhs.net

What do Peer Supporters do?

- We offer mums support in community venues or at your local breastfeeding group.
- We offer non-judgemental, personal, confidential, information and practical help with breastfeeding.
- The support we provide is in addition to and complements the care you receive from NHS Grampian Health Professionals.

Who are the Peer Supporters?

- We are trained NHS volunteers living across Grampian who have experience of breastfeeding.
- We provide a confidential service.
- All volunteers hold a current Protecting Vulnerable Groups (PVG) membership and have been trained to support breast feeding families.

You can seek additional breastfeeding information from a number of sources:

Breastfeeding Groups

Breastfeeding groups are a fantastic source of support for new mums. You can have a chat with other breastfeeding mothers and get used to breastfeeding outside of your own home.

Most groups have a breastfeeding peer supporter who can help and support you with breastfeeding. To find a group close to you, visit: www.nhsgrampian.org/breastfeeding or www.parentclub.scot (search by postcode).

There will be regular updates of the groups running on the Breastfeed Grampian page on facebook.
